HILLSEORO, July 29—(P)—Robert L. Calvert, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, hit sharply today against the idea of a referendum on pres-idential prefrence in the August 28

Texas voters to say whether they prefer Harry Truman or States Rights candidate Strom Thurmond president. Legal, Personal Opinion

Calvert blasted the refrendum in a seven-page document issued from his office here. He cited legal evidence and personal convictions to show that— "1. It is doubtful whether the state executive committee has any legal authority to order such a re-

"2. Such a referendum would be wholly impractical and ineffective for mechanical reasons;
"3. Such a referendum would had issued a statemnt calling the referendum proposal both impractical and illegal.

Major Issue Ahead

The referndum is scheduled to be a major isue at county con-ventions throughout the state Saturday.

The States Rights are demanding that the issue of whether Texas Democrats desire to support

Truman, the national party nom-inee, or Thurmond, the Dixlecrat nominee, be submitted to a vote of the people on August 28.

Calvert cited election statutes to show that it is impossible legally "to submit such a matter to a executive committee ordering a referendum would not be binding on party officials who are charged with the duty of making up the ballot in the various counties, and many of them would simply refuse to comply with any such order," Calvert said.

U. S. military tribunal today acquitted all 24 directors of the giant of looting in countries overrun by Hitler's Nazis.

The sprawling Farben plant at Ludwigshafen, death trap for probably 300 or more Germans in yesterday's mammoth explosion, lay in smouldering ruin as the court decided the fate of the men who directed Farben, the symbol of Nazi Germany's industrial might.

Two More Counts.

Findings on two more counts—involving crimes against humanity—will be dealt with tomorrow.
The court found that the blame for plotting and waging war lay, clearly, with the politicians and the militarists of Hitler's Third Reich.
The opinion delivered after an 11-month trial, dealt with five

Paul Porter, former OPA administrator, took a draft of proposed legislation to the house

But Porter said that even with the controls roposed he would not expect an immediate reduc-tion of price levels. He added— "We do expect them to end the upward march of prices and to re-

U.S. Soil Conservation reports indicate a national average yield increase of 11 per cent for contour-cultivated corn. Significant increases also are reported for other crops.

Allis-Chalmers FRONT-MOUNTED implements with DUAL DEPTH CONTROL make contouring a real possibility for the average farm. A planter and cultivator mounted ahead of the driver's seat make k easy to follow a curved row.

Seed and fertilizer can be placed at precise depth, in contour rows that catch and hold moisture on the slope. Rotary hoe cultivator attachents roll directly over the row, lifting out weeds.

While the King was content to build palaces for hinself and the tottering pillars of his kingdom, this great-visioned, delicate-spiritied prophet was pouring forth his soul in tears because of the nation's decline.

At last he was restrained from preaching. His dramatic figure outling in the temple and at the city's gates; no more was attention arbitants. But God always provides some pulpit for a man with a measure to say it; "mute, inglorious Milton's" do not exist outside of poetry; had the divine fire burned in their hearts it would have blazed forth into utterance. A young student for the ministry was told by his wise friends that he would nover make a preacher; but this shattering of his soul's dear dream and desire did not spoil his usefulness. He wanted to speak God's means to reach millions with the Gospel. means to reach millions with the

The Test of Print
With his mouth closed, Jeremiah wrote. The test of real worth of a message and of its enduring power is to reduce it to writing. A gilb tongue, an attractive personality, and a mastery of platform arts may make a practage. arts may make a speaker popular, although his utterances may be empty air. But when such a one writes, his brain nakedness is xwrites, his brain nareuness is naposed to all the world. The prophet, ancient or modern, whose man; for unto him it is given to sit down in seclusion and quiet with his congregation, and to reason together in seriousness, with the likelihood of impressions being most deep and abiding. Jeremiah began to count most when, by the help of Baruch, the scribe, he began to write. Speed the day when every printing press becomes a pulpit of truth.

There is no penknife sharp enough, no fire hot enough, to destroy the book which God has written. The persistence of the Bible, when one considers all the Jehoakims it has encountered in three thousand years, is nothing less than a proof of its divine nature. Voltaire boasted that in a hundred years no one would read the Bible; yet today he, its suppossed vanquisher, is but a name known only to the lettered, while his home is the site of one of the hundreds of printing presses that turn out Bibles in an endless stream. The Book of which Jeremiah's prophecy is still part is today the most widely read, the most carefully studied and the most influential collection of written words extant. tial collection of written Baruch, we know of a certaing stood with Jeremiah, helping him and so sharing his dangers and privileges. Now Baruch bore no high-sounding title, though of noble family. His office was that of stenographer. He wrote to Jeremiah's dictation—and what his skill and faithfulness meant to the harassed prophet every busy man of affairs who has to lean heavily upon his secretary's assistance can readily understand. The book that was produced went by Je emights readily understand. The book that was produced went by J. emiah's name among men, but it really was a partnership affair, like most books; and in this case the rel Author was God, with Jeremiah and Baruch as collaborators.

The Day's "Best Seller"

Every editor, and every other alert observer of the signs of the times, is well aware that the taste of the great solid, silent public is incurably religious. He knows that the chief staple of the publishing houses, next to fiction is religious literature, and that reiligious stories are the most popular of novels. Also he knows that the Book which has steadfastly kent first place as the "best seller" since the art of printing was invented, is the old Bible of which Jeremiah wrote a part, with the help of Baruch, the scribe.

Figures fail to tell the story. There are now translations of the Scriptures into one thousand tongues—all the languages and principal dialects spoken by man. Scores of spoken languages have DAYTON, O., July 9.—(A)—Pickets marched and shouted "scab" today but no heads were cracked at the strike-bound Univis Lens Co. plant.

With 164 policemen in tight lines on duty, the expected violence did not materialize as the eye glass company reopened its plant for the fourth consecutive day.

A mass picket line representative of all CIO locals in Montgomery county was at the plant Police Chief Rudolph Wurstner reported there were 189 men and women on the moving picket line and about 3,300 spectators at the North Side factory.

Police said 431 of the plant's 700 production workers "entered unmolested but with jeers of "scab" and "skunk" following them to their benches.

Husky Lou Kaplan, international organizer of the striking CIO United Electrical Workers Loval 768, directed three picket lines despite a court order barring him from the vicinity of the plant.

Kaplan said he had not been served with the order. He wore a patch on his head and a fractured finger suffered in yesterday's melee was in splints.

Bare feet and leg fads make them conscious of well-scrubbed limbs. Off-the-shoulder gowns and strapless bathing suits demand that shoulders, neck and arms be kept sparkling clean. Girls even in modest circumstances develop a debutante look at an early age. The best way to achieve naturalness, they find, is through warm water and soap. It is amazing that even teen-agers discuss soaps they like and prefer, and many of them use their allowence to buy a particular soap of their liking.

WASHINGTON, July 29-(P)-This is the background of the poll of tax fight in the senate. In seven southern states—Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia—and in New Hampshire, people have to pay a poli tax be-The question is: Should these Southern Democratic senators to bring up and pass in the senatee such a repeal bill.

Wages Lower Because wages are lower in the south than in the rest of the country, foes of the tax argue that the HOUSTON, July 29.—(AP)—The poll tax keeps about 10,000,000

Negro organizations particularly want the tax abolished. Southern congressmen argue the tax helps pay for schools and A year ago, there had been only roads. They say congress has no right to interfere with voting requirements set up by states. Last summer the house passed bill to wipe out the poll tax. for Falcon Dam, $36,000,000 flood There wasn't much trouble passing it in the house. The house has rules limiting de-

No Senate Limit The senate, unlike the house, has no limit on debate.

There a senator, once he gets the floor, can filibuster-which means talking without interruption-until he finishes or collapses. When one senator goes on a fil-Ibuster he can slow up the work of the senate for a day or two. But when a whole group of senators-like the southern Democrats-start a fillbuster, they can talk in relays and prevent the sen-, ate from doing any other work for weeks.

Gag Rule Possible The only way in which a filibuster can be stopped is by two thirds of the senators voting to limit de-

This is called cloture. But in the senate—where every senator knows that some day he, himself may want to filibusterit's pretty hard to get a two-thirds vote for cloture. The Anti-Poll Tax bill, passed by the house July last year, lay around in the senate for the rest of 1947. And it lay around there this year, waiting.

Ready for Debate In June, when the senate quitor thought it was quitting—for the rest of 1948, the Republican leaders still had not brought up the ready-and-waiting anti-poll tax bill for debate and vote.

But now the Republican leaders said they wer ready to bring it up at this special session of congress as the first order of business. (They explain that they need time to examine Mr. Truman's ideas on halting inflation and meeanwhile they can go ahead with the anti-poli tax bill.)

If they bring up this bill-and the southern Democrats start filibuster against it—and if the Republicans and other Democrats don't or can't vote to limit the talking—the fillbuster may go on for weeks.

DENTON, July 20.—(P)—North Texas State College still had a full water supply at mid-morning today.

The city of Denton had notified college officials earlier this week that the water supply to the college athletic and recreation area would be cut off today.

The Denton city commission approved the action Monday night, saying that a water supply problem forced the curtailment.

The school's water supply, furnished free by Denton under an agreement made in 1899, has long been in dispute.

Gumbin's son. Owen, 19, who was riding in his father's car to their home, was not hit by the shot. It was fired by one of two men in a car which pulled up alongside Gumbin's sedan as he slowed for a traffic light at Pershing Road and Wallace street.

Policeman James Webster, who was driving directly in front of Gumbin in Pershing Road, said the gunman drove to the left of Gumbin's machine as he stopped for the red light. One of the killers poked a shotgun through the side window and fired. The blast shattered Gumbin's head. The killers sped north on Wallace street as young Gumbin leaped from his father's car and shouted for help.

MRS. RAYMOND DOUGLAS BALLEW

MISS DOROTHY ANN WALTON-OF BARRY WEDS RAYMOND D. BALLEW ON MONDAY EVENING

Miss Dorothy Ann Walton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Walton of Barry, became the bride of Raymond Douglas Ballew, of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ballew of Frost, Monday evening at the First Baptist church in Barry. The Rev. Waller M. Ethredge of Marshall officiated with the double ring ceremony.

Before the exchange of vows. Mrs. Glenn Bell, pianist played "Traumerl" and accompanied Mrs. Percy Vernell, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." As background music for the ceremony Mrs. Bell selected "To a Willd Rose," and she played the traditional wedding processional and, recessional. Mrs. Bell had played the same selections in marriage ceremonies uniting the bride's mother and father.

George David Ballew, brother of the bridegroom, lighted the ivory tapers in floor candelabra to illume the altar arrangements of white gladioll and asters in floor baskets.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, wore a street length, two-piece white frock of waffle pique designed with sweetheart neckline and skirt which flared to the back. She choose as accessories a white picture hat, white gloves and navy slippers.

For jewel accent she wore a cameden recenicated a prayerbook topped with gandenias and showered with narriag randmother, and she carried a prayerbook topped with gardenias and showered with narriag randmother, and she carried a prayerbook topped with safe and showered with sartended a prayerbook topped with swetch shorters and showered with narriag randmother, and she carried a prayerbook topped with swetch shorters and showered with a stended the bride as maid of honor, was dressed in pikk waffle pique for the write accessories, and her flowers were blue carnations.

Graw and Miss Billie Dell Mc. Graw and Braly wore frocks of blue waffle pique in a design duplicating that of the maid of honor. Their flowers were pink carnations.

Newburn Ballew, brother of the bridey of the bridegroom, served as best man, and groomsmen and ushers were Thomas Joe Parks and Charles Williams.
